It was built by M.T. Loughlin in 1872 as a Second Empire brick building with Eastlake and Stick style details. It was listed on the National Register of Historic Places in 2000. After being vacant for 15 years, the building was successfully rehabilitated by the non-profit Harmony Hotel Preservation Project (HHP). The hotel was converted to 23 apartments and part of the hotel's ballroom was converted to what was originally a two-level fitness center. After HHP successfully acquired the hotel, the western wing underwent a $1.8 million renovation to transform it into a non-smoking three-story, 16-room boutique hotel.
